Pro-Air Services named the South Region's Best Contractor to Work For

Decatur, AL – The Air Conditioning, Heating and Refrigeration (ACHR) NEWS recently recognized Pro-Air Services as the South Region's Best Contractor to Work For. The South Region includes: Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, South Carolina, and North Carolina.

Pro-Air Services provides heating, ventilation, air conditioning and refrigeration services to industrial and commercial clients throughout Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia and Mississippi. They maintain both a service department for maintenance and repair of equipment and a project department for mechanical equipment installation.

Pro-Air Services President and Owner Marshall Putman started the company in 1995 as a one-person shop. Now it is a multi-million dollar a year industrial and commercial HVACR business with 40 employees including 31 top of the line service technicians and project personnel. As a company who cares for their employees, they offer educational opportunities, good wages and benefits, career advancement options, and a family-friendly work environment. They are also committed to being a "Pro-Earth" company by encouraging their employees to be environmentally conscious while taking steps to conserve and protect the environment. These are just a few reasons why Pro-Air Services was chosen as one of the winners of The NEWS' Best Contractors to Work For.

Other winners by region include: Magic Touch Mechanical, West Region; Commercial Express HVAC Inc., East Region; Neal Harris Service Experts, North Central Region; and Nordic Mechanical Services Ltd., Canada Region.
